Dear Ray:

Thank you for the invitation to join you at the International Club on October 22 to honor Jack Dziak and the publication of his new book, Chekisty: A History of the KGB.

Unfortunately, I will be out of town at that time. It sounds like an interesting evening, and I am sorry that I shall miss it.

I enjoyed talking with you at the Agency's Fortieth Anniversary celebration last week.

Regards.

Robert M. Gates

Dear Bob:

On behalf of the National Intelligence Study Center and the National Intelligence Book Center I take great pleasure in inviting you to attend a reception on October 22, 1987, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., at the International Club of Washington. We will honor Jack Dziak and the publication of his new book, Chekisty: A History of the KGB.

At 6:30 p.m., after an appropriate time for signing books, Jack will tell us about his experiences in writing Chekisty and what he hopes it will achieve. He will be joined on the podium by four special guests, including General Richard Stilwell, Lt. General James Williams, Stanislav Levchenko, and Alexandra Costa.

The enclosures give you details about the reception and provide a form for ordering the book from the Book Center.

We look forward to seeing you.

Cordially,

Ray S. Cline
